Welcome to ON Control AB

We change name!

The company has until December 31st 2008 been called Instrumentservice. But we felt that the name did not describe our product or our determination to be active, accurate or our desire to connect to businesses – and to be in control. Therefore we have decided to rename the company OnControl.

We are a company manufacturing electronic products on a small scale for industry, construction and public spaces.

Our main activity is designing control and monitoring units for fire dampers and smoke dampers – we have a great deal of experience of fire safety in the context of ventilation systems.

The philosophy behind our products is that they must be extremely reliable and easy to use - our catchwords are quality and simplicity.
